Purpose of Staffordshire County Amateur Swimming Association

Executive Summary:

This document has been produced as part of the Governance programme approved at the last meeting in January. It is for members of the executive to agree or amend this document to give the association a clear way forward from which our programme of activities are built.

Purpose of Staffordshire County Amateur Swimming Association

The Staffordshire County Amateur Swimming Association (SCASA) is dedicated to fostering the. growth and excellence of aquatic sports within the county. Its primary objectives encompass a wide range of activities aimed at nurturing talent, promoting competition, and ensuring effective communication within the swimming community.

Main Purposes of the Association

Promotion of County Championships

SCASA aims to organize and promote the County Championships, focusing on various aquatic disciplines including Swimming, Open Water Swimming, Artistic Swimming, and Masters Swimming. These championships provide a platform for athletes to showcase their skills and achieve recognition at the county level.

Participation Inter County Events

The association is committed to facilitating participation in Inter County events both locally and nationally. This initiative allows swimmers to experience enhanced competition and fosters a sense of teamwork and camaraderie as they compete at higher levels.

Development Camps and Taster Sessions

SCASA promotes the organisation of development camps and taster sessions across all aquatic disciplines, including Swimming, Open Water Swimming, Masters Swimming, Artistic Swimming, and Water Polo. These events are designed to provide athletes with opportunities for skill development, exposure to new techniques, and a broader understanding of their sport.

Effective Communication

A key purpose of SCASA is to maintain effective communication with member clubs and individuals. This is achieved through an up-to-date website, which serves as a central hub for information, updates, and resources related to the association's activities and events.

Through these purposes, the Staffordshire County Amateur Swimming Association strives to enhance the experience and development of swimmers, promote competitive excellence, and foster a cohesive and informed aquatic sports community.
